Mr Ira D Sturgs, of Augusta, had a very narrow escape from the loss of one or both feet at his Vassulboro farm one day lest week. He was in the hay field, and as his driver and mowing machine came along he stepped up to the horses on the off side and exclaimed "You do not drive fast enough "at the same time rapping the animals with his hand. They started suddenly, and the cutter bar, the whetted knives moving with lightning-like rapidity, was brought against his legs about eight inches from the ground. The driver seeing the danger, pulled on the rems with all his might to stop the horses, and Mr Sturgis leaped to one side, but not until he had been severely wounded in one ankle by a finger and the knives had made a bad hesh wound on the other leg cutting to the bone.

What fruit was not pounded off the trees was picked full of holes, so that it resembled the effect of a charge of shot. Corn was stripped as if with a kinle, and every sort of vegetable suffered. To the simple animals of the earth it was death. Chickels, birds, rabbits, gophers, young pigs, etc. were found liteless in juganities after the storm.

The storm gave ample warning of its approach. The morning opened clear, with a temperature of 80%, and a gentle south wind blowing at the rate of six miles per hour. There had been a smart shower at 11.30 P. M., the night before, and around the horizon yet hung a fringe of clouds. At the a clook a low rimbiling in the west gave a token of thunder, and an observable made at that time showed a small point of black cloud fringed with fleece These fleecy clouds rapidly developed, until they covered all the visible sky. SINGULAR OCCURRENCE.

one Horse Thief Arrested by Mistake for Another.

LIVERMURE FALLS, July 12. Officer Mellaney, of Portland, arrived in Livermore Falls Monday afternoon, with the Dixfield horse thief, en route for Canton where the young fellow's trial is to be as follows: The young fellow was at week, when he left for parts unknown, taking a carriage and harness belonging to his employer together with a horse belongmg to L. J. Lyford, of Livermore Fulls, which was in a neighboring pasture.

He started for Auburn, and on his way tired to sell the team several times, without avail. Now it seemed that there had occurred another team robbery in Porthand about this same time, and despatches were received at Auburn describing the team and the man. This description of the Portland man, as luck would have it, happened to suit the Dixfield lad, so when Officer Melaney arrived from Portland. the Divileld thief having got to Auburn before him, he arrested him. Of course at first he stoutly denied any connection a all with the affair, but after being locked in a cell, confessed everything. It is not known whether the Portland man has been captured or not.

The President's Pet in a Pitiful Pitght. NAN FRACISCO, July 12. The Chronicle SAN FRACISCO, July 12. The Chronicle this morning prints an editorial charging that the present attitude of the Treasury Department toward the charges against Herbert F. Beecher is merely a piece of bravado, and that the officials of the department have long been aware of the gross irregularities practised by Beecher, but have not dared to remove him on account of the feeling prevalent that the Freskient regarded Beecher as his especial protege. The paper says it will be able to present proof of the correctness of all the affidavits it has printed and that it can supply additional evidence of the existence of corruption in the Pork Towasend customs district which would convict Beeching and procurit of law. which would convict Beech in any court of law.
